WINNER OF AUTO
GETS MANY OFFERSMrs. Burkhardt Inundated With Letters Seeking Her Services.

That nothing succeeds like success is the experience of Mrs. David Burkhardt in realizing following her winning of the Studebaker six in the News-Times circulation contest. That Mrs. Burkhardt worked hard and was deserving of the prize which came to her is everywhere acknowledged, but she hardly expected to be inundated with offers of jobs of all kinds so soon after the close of the contest. However, so far she has received no less than 17 letters from various parts, including Chicago, complimenting her on her brilliant salesmanship and asking her to identify herself with this or that firm.

South Bend sent her 11 offers, a few really flattering. Some were for selling bonds, others automobiles, ladies' silk underwear, patent medicine, wringing machines, electric washing machines, while an insurance company offered her a salaried position and an exclusive Mishawaka territory.

To a News-Times representative Mrs. Burkhardt said yesterday: "While I am deeply grateful to those persons who have been kind enough to offer me positions, I may say I have a family of children at home and also a husband who works every day. When I decided to enter the contest I made up my mind I was going to win something worth while, although I never for a moment expected to get an automobile. I set out on the canvass with a determined mind. Kind neighbors promised to look after my children and my home when that was necessary. That they did so it makes me feel proud of my neighbors and all become interested in my work. I was really surprised to find the News-Times so well thought of in Mishawaka. Everywhere I went, and I covered the city as every point, I found a good word for the News-Times forthrightly; but so many of the people I called upon were already taking the paper I feared at first my efforts would be futile. Nil desperandum, however, was my motto, and I clung to it through the exciting days covering the contest."

Asked how she felt the night before the winners were announced, Mrs. Burkhardt said she didn't sleep a wink, and the next morning she was on the doorstep waiting for the News-Times carrier at 4 o'clock. When 5 came and no paper she imagined all sorts of impossible things happening to delay delivery of her favorite paper. A few minutes after that hour she espied a woman running along Broadway with a paper in her hand. Half a block away she heard the call, "You won an automobile, Mrs. Burkhardt!" Nothing mattered then. Nearly the entire neighborhood adjacent to Mrs. Burkhardt's home at 316 W. Broadway, rushed in to offer congratulations, and during the most of Wednesday she was busy shaking hands.

Asked what she was going to do with the Studebaker Mrs. Burkhardt said with a delectable air: "Why, I am going to keep it and enjoy it for sure. I have been offered $1,250 cash for it, but why should I sell it? I am out today looking for a garage to house it in. Please say this about the News-Times: Everybody I saw spoke well of the paper. They told me the changes made recently had made it without exception the best paper, not excluding those of Chicago, that came to Mishawaka."

FIRE AT DODGE PLANT.

Fire in the coal pile at 10:20 o'clock last night resulted in the summons of the Central and North Side city departments and the Volunteer company of the Dodge Manufacturing company to the Dodge plant. The blaze, which had broken out in a pile of coal stored near department No. 35 of the factory, was extinguished before much damage was done.
